Computer Information Systems: Question 1

Was there a specific course (or courses) you considered more valuable than others?

- * Web Authoring, Web Development, Computer Security, Network Security, Fundamentals of CyberSecurity, Security Strategies, Ethical Hacker 1&2
- * Ethical hackers were good, networking fundamentals and security were good
- * CIS 195 for overall understanding of the process of website design CIS 295 for actually developing a web application
- * More practical knowledge and hands material along with main stay certs.
- * The database track was extremely useful. The python course on program concepts is used all the time. HTML and CSS I use daily.
- * The A+ courses were super helpful in getting a solid baseline of understanding. All the networking courses as well were AWESOME and I enjoyed them a lot.
- * All of the courses were valuable to me and I use just about as much skills from each of them.

- * I really like the testout classes and all database classes taught by Jack Fassel.
- * 3D modeling and programming.
- * Ethical hacker, Digital forensics, the Cisco classes (CIS151-CIS154) were more useful than other classes to me. The cyber competition (NCL) was especially helpful.
- * The Small Games Programming classes were more valuable to me as I still use what I had learned from those classes while I am continuing my education at a University
- * When performing troubleshooting, I found CIS 145A/B to be very useful, as well as CIS151/152, ISTM 183EA and EB for theory and some hands-on practical application in ethical hacking/reconnaissance.
- * Web Authoring: Applications, HTML5, CSS3, Graphics and AnimationEthical Hacker 1 and 2
- * CIS295CMSCIS197HTM

- * The SQL classes have been very valuable to my current position.
- * CIS 151
- * Oracle database classes taught by Jack Fassel
- * CIS 151, CIS 145A, the Ethical Hacking courses, and the A+ Prep and A+ Essentials courses
- * HTML 5 and CSS3, Python
- * Network Security FundamentalsScaling NetworksFundamentals of Disaster Recovery and Business ContinuityEthical Hacker 1 & 2Strategic Infrastructure SecurityFundamentals of CybersecurityComputer Maintenance and Forensics II
- * Now that I know how to trouble shoot computers, I have been helping a friend over the phone with her computer troubles. In windows 10 on her start menu all of her apps disappeared and her Cortona search ability was not working. I explained to her over the phone how to use power shell to fix this issue. Her computer skills are only playing games and surfing the net.On the other issue, the great Microsoft update disabled her wireless card. I talked her through the areas of where she needed to go to re-enable her nic card, so she could access the internet once again. This was not a paying job, but school taught me how to think outside the box and what to look for to fix computer issues that arise.
- * Video game theory
- * SQL, PLSQL, Business Intelligence, visual basic, CompTia A+ Certification Prep, CIS125DB, WP, SS.
- * I'm still unemployed, so far all the skills I learned are equally valuable.
- * CIS 151-154 (Networking/CISCO), ISTM183A and B (A+), CIS122 (Concepts 3), CIS125DB (Database), CIS197HTM (HTML)
- * CIS145A CIS145B CIS145C
- * CIS145A-B-CCIS151CIS152CIS197HTMCIS284SCIS284NS
- * The Cisco classes (all four of them)

Computer Information Systems: Question 2

Are there any new tools, applications or standards the program should address?

- * Yes the software should be bug free so students don't have the issues I had in my classes. The school should provide students with software they are actually going to be using in their jobs and not software that is two to three years old. Some of the instructors should have more patients with the students that come into the program who are just home computer users and take more time with these students if they show that learning is important to them. Students who have these issues should not be made to feel they are being rushed through the course and feeling frustrated, that makes a student to want to give up! However, I am a persistent individual and I will learn on my own if I feel the instructor isn't helping enough. Not all students are like me though!
- * SCCM
- * Maybe some more classes that teach more different types of operating systems
- * Several times I ran into instructors basically telling students the information being taught was obsolete, and ever changing. Make sure curriculum is current.
- * Go more in depth on how more than one game engine works, for example show how both Unreal and Unity engines work.
- * UNIX / Linux
- * It is hard to say as different companies will require different tools and applications for employment with them. This will require too much to implement every tool and application available that are widely used through out the different companies.
- * The OS classes (windows, OS overview CIS140, CIS140W) were inadequate for what they should have been. They covered old material (Windows 98 and Windows 7 content when Windows 8, 8.1, and 10 were out.), so to answer the question, current windows operating systems were not covered at all. Also, forensics and maintenance (CIS145A-C) were watered down and useless due to lack of depth. The digital forensics class ISTM283F was more useful than the CIS145 class. Additionally, the following items were covered to some degree, but are important enough I think a little more would have been helpful. Server OS (Windows and otherwise) The ethical hacker classes and related content (exploits, more wireshark analysis) Programming (more than the CIS122 class would be great)
- * Change happens so fast in this field, it is tough to keep up.

* SEO, full stack developing

- * I frequently see companies requesting experience with Snort and a greater focus on scripting languages not just including Pythpn but also C and Java
- * SQL should be required. (I took it as elective)
- * In the database realm a full course on Business Intelligence, Database Administration, Database Tuning would have given a better specialization. For Web Design courses including css preprocessor information on SASS or LESS. A class on utilizing REST API's would go a long way towards web application development. The programming python course could have used a follow up algorithms class to really cement home the programming concepts. The transfer degree seemed to include these concepts, but not the specialty certification tracks.
- * It would be awesome to have access to the newest business Cisco Routers and Switches.
- * JQuery
- * LINUX. I received a minor introduction to Linux distros early on in the CIS145 classes, then again with the ethical hacking classes, but not nearly enough to my liking. Most of my knowledge has been self-taught with Linux. I also would have liked getting a little more in depth with Wire Shark.
- * Linux/Kali Linux in more comprehensive manner I understand this is in the works? A course to bring all the individual courses together in a cyber security context. For example, a 12 week exercise (In Lieu of Cyber competition/capstone) that starts at initial configuration of appliances for a fictional org and ends with did we keep the bad guys out, did we keep our data? Milestones along the way...Student would be utilizing networking, ethical hacking, python, wireshark, forensics, A+, disaster recovery planning, etc... I understand a lot of work...This is Andrew Zambrano (EnergySec) btw :)
- * Replace windows server with AWS (amazon web services)stop using windows as main OS. instead switch to red hat or opensuse to be more inline with LPI standardsPort numbers and Linux commands have gotten me further in job interviews than any other trainnin I received at MHCC
