Mental Health, Social Service and Addiction Counseling: Question 1

Was there a specific course (or courses) you considered more valuable than others?

- * All of them were extremely helpful, however I think boundaries, ethics, cultural counseling, group counseling, and interviewing are the skills I use daily.
- * I felt they were all aimed for specifications to become Mental Health
- * I would say studying the theories of the early counselors was most challenging and was very useful.
- * Basic attendance skills, group counseling, case management
- * All of my courses were valuable to mental health. Basic counseling skills and labs were especially educating.
- * Human development
- * HS112L & HS113L were probably the most valuable courses, even though I did not see it till the classes were over.
- * The interviewing classes and labs have been useful in not only my professional, but my personal life as well. It has made all the difference. Abnormal psychology has been useful working in a mental health facility along with the courses on culture diversity, case management, and seminar for practicum. Truthfully, all of the classes were helpful in one aspect or another.
- * No
- * I enjoyed all of the courses offered group, interviewing, and psychology were the most interesting to me. It required me to come out of my comfort zone.
- * All the courses helped. Kathleen and Rene'e were wonderful
- *
Interviewing Skills along with the Lab in Kathleen Hannagan's class. Intro to Social Services taught by Karen Green and theories taught by Renee
- * Addiction Counseling, psychiatric disorders.
- * I found the courses very well coordinated and relevant to my field of study. Diagnosis and Treatment was difficult but very necessary. The most enjoyable and also relevant were the courses that related to finding yourself and improving self-esteem and self confidence.

Mental Health, Social Service and Addiction Counseling: Question 2

Are there any specific topics or subjects that the MHHS program did not cover?

- * No, I believe the courses were definitely detailed enough to prepare me for my career.
- * I do feel that World Religion would be beneficial to understand different Religions our clients believe in
- * No, Everything that I learned from the MHSSAC program is helping further my education. I think that they prepared me for my current journey. Apa writing is something that can be focused on
- * None.
- * Criminal offenders mental health and/or Addiction treatment
- * I felt that the courses covered most every topic that would be encountered in the field. Emphasis was put on procedure and confidentiality and compassion.
- * I believe most of the classes served as a foundation for our knowledge in all areas, so no.
- * No
- * Behavioral addiction would have been nice to cover more. Social work in general was barely covered. Addiction was the main topic, widening the spectrum would be nice.
- * NO
- * Getting more practice working with angry, extremely difficult clients.
